

May Pastors Corner

May always brings us to Mother's Day. The yearly veneration of our Mother's place in raising us, to nurture us and hopefully help us find our place in the complications of living in this sometimes-chaotic culture we now live in. So, let's give a quick prayer and a "Thank You Jesus" for all the mom's out there in the world.

But that's not what I really want to talk about this month. I was thinking of the game we played as children called "Mother May I." "Mother May I" take 5 giant steps. The object was to be the first to the finish line and we always had to remember to say "Mother May I." Of course, if you forgot to say the magic words you had to go all the way back to the beginning.

So, let's change the words a bit and try a new way of living. How's this you might be asking? How about when we are making a decision in our lives we ask, "Jesus May I!" I guess this would be very similar to asking WWJD.

Either way it seems it would behoove us to ask these questions when we look to future endeavors. Not that Jesus would give us those five giant steps forward, but it definitely gets us to thinking are we showing and sharing Christ in the decisions we all make in our lives. Something to think about.

Grace and Peace in All things,

Pastor Bob
